

College Changes Everything

Lakeisha Phelps Mayes - ACCESS Alumna

- Education: Norview High School; B.A., M.P.A., Old Dominion University
- Current Position: Director of Recruitment and Undergraduate Admissions, Norfolk State University
- Proudest Moment: Establishing an example for my younger siblings of what higher education can help you accomplish.
- Making a Difference: In my current position at Norfolk State University, I have the opportunity to work closely with ACCESS and I've developed a passion for working with students who have a desire to go to college, but need some help with the admissions and financial aid process.

"I believe that our community should support ACCESS College Foundation because through this organization, thousands of students are finding their way to higher education. Through their education, we provide students the opportunity to become productive members of our Hampton Roads."
