

College Changes Everything

Rashad M. Ferebee – ACCESS Alumnus

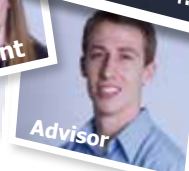

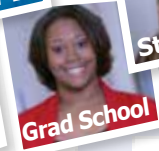

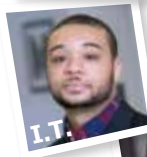

Education: Granby High School; M.A. Ed., Virginia Tech

Current Position: School Counselor, Norfolk Public Schools

Proudest Moment: Creating a legacy of college graduates in my family

Making a Difference: I'm a school counselor in Norfolk, so I get to work with students every day. I get to help them put their lives on track and encourage them to go to college, get a job, and find a trade so they can positively impact their communities.

"ACCESS is important to our community because it leads students, who may not have support, to an open door to higher education. Whether it's a community college, a two year college, or a four year college, ACCESS College Foundation provides students the opportunity to say, 'Hey, I can do this! I can go to college! I can get an education after high school!'"
